Build your first week

Select the pictures first. Your letters can come later.

Choose the dates

In the writing desk, choose 1–25 December or 14–25 December. Use the recipient’s time zone for a midnight opening.

Pick from your phone

Tap Add from camera roll, then Choose photos and videos. You can select many at once. Long or unsupported clips are flagged. Trim videos to under 20 MB.

Review the suggested days

Spread across the year favours different dates and scenes. Oldest first follows time order. Use the day selectors to swap memories or leave a file on your device. Rotate corrects a sideways picture.

Keep your changes

Tap Add memories to drafts, then close the organiser. Each selected day appears as a draft. Blank days only are filled. Reopen drafts to write and seal them.

Make a letter feel personal

A line only they would understand is enough.

Start with the picture

Open a December day. Choose Letter ideas or write your own title and note. Tell them what happened just before or after the picture.

Add a gallery or a voice note

Open Photo or video to choose up to 12 photos and clips together, up to 20 MB per letter. A new selection replaces the previous gallery. Voice notes use the separate recorder or audio picker.

Choose the soundtrack

Pick a built-in recording if you want the reveal timed to the music. Spotify and Apple Music links use their provider’s player. Add a voucher, matching game or another surprise if you like.

Preview and seal

Preview opens the receiver’s scene. Save draft keeps it on your writing desk. Seal letter makes it available once its local calendar date arrives.

Give it to your people

You write once. Everyone has their own opening history.

Keep your own writing link

On a private hosted calendar, open Share and copy your private writing link somewhere safe. It carries your key for other devices.

Create a reader invitation

Enter their own email and choose Create invitation. Send the complete private link and six-digit gift code to that person. Repeat for each member of the family.

Open on a new phone

Use the complete link and the invited email. The emailed sign-in code verifies their address. The separate gift code claims their invitation the first time. They can later revisit earlier letters.

Collect and export

Open the dated envelope. Tap the gold stamp, then read the letter. Past letters holds the stamp book. On Christmas Day, Save our Christmas story offers a PDF or a playable ZIP, including gallery originals.

How privacy works

Your camera roll is never sent away to be sorted.

On your device

Date sorting, local visual comparisons and rotation run in the browser. Closing the organiser discards unconfirmed selections. No recognition service receives images, filenames or dates.

When you choose to share

New hosted gifts encrypt the note, photos, videos and voice recordings on your device. The host holds encrypted copies so other people can open them later. The key travels in the private link.

What the service can know

Accounts, invitation emails, calendar labels, release dates, order references and progress are needed to deliver a hosted calendar. A recipient can keep or forward an exported copy.

Trying the demo

The demo uses fictional people. Photo and letter edits last for the current tab. Only sample reading and stamp progress is remembered on this device.
